VOL. I · NO. 6
MONDAY EDITION

MUMBAI
EDITED FOR SHARVIN SHAH

The Jarvis Gazette

All the world, before your coffee.

MONDAY - NOVEMBER 09, 2026 | MUMBAI, INDIA | EDITION NO. 6

₹ Indian Money

STOCK MARKET · GOLD & SILVER · YOUR WALLET

SENSEX · FRI CLOSE	NIFTY 50 · FRI CLOSE	SENSEX · MUHURAT HOUR	GIFT NIFTY · FRIDAY	GOLD · 24K MUMBAI
81,028	25,030	−29 pts	24,948	₹1,42,490
▲ 2.17%	▲ 2.01%	Sunday	hints at a soft start	per 10 g

THE BIG STORY · AFTER THE PARTY

A quiet lucky hour, then a two-day week: markets catch their breath after the best week since 2021

Sunday's Muhurat session ended almost flat. Today is a normal trading day, tomorrow is a holiday, and early signals point to a slightly softer start.

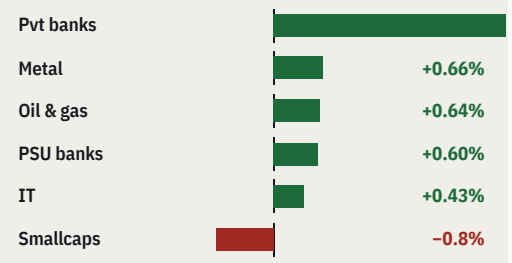

The Diwali rally finally paused. In Sunday's one-hour Muhurat trading session, the Sensex slipped 29 points and the Nifty dipped just below the 25,000 mark, Kotak Neo reports. After a week in which the Sensex jumped 8.82%, a flat hour is no surprise: as we noted yesterday, Muhurat moves in the last decade have never been bigger than 1%.

Friday itself was a big day. The Sensex closed at 81,028.02, up 1,718 points (2.17%), and the Nifty at 25,030.35, up 494 points (2.01%), led by private banks, which rose 3.2% as a group. Mahindra & Mahindra (about +5%) and ICICI Bank (+4.7%) were the stars; Tata Motors' passenger-car arm, Eicher Motors and Shriram Finance lagged.

What to expect today: GIFT Nifty, a version of the Nifty that trades overseas while Indian markets sleep, ended Friday at 24,948, about 82 points below the Nifty's close. HDFC Sky reads that as a sign of a slightly lower opening. Remember the timetable: Tuesday 10 November is a market holiday for Diwali Balipratipada, so this week has only four trading days.

The warning light: on Friday, more shares fell than rose (1,681 up, 2,400 down, HDFC Sky counts), and small companies slipped 0.8%. The big names did all the lifting.

ⓘ FRIDAY'S SECTOR MOVES

Banks did the heavy lifting. Smaller companies fell.

THIS WEEK'S CALENDAR

- Mon · Normal trading, 9:15 AM
- Tue · Holiday (Balipratipada)
- Thu · Zee board meets on buyback
- Tue night · US inflation data (page 2)

ⓘ NEW TO THIS? WORDS FROM TODAY'S STORY

GIFT Nifty
Nifty futures traded at GIFT City in Gujarat almost round the clock. An early hint of how Indian shares may open.

Market breadth
How many shares rose versus fell. A rally where most shares fall is a "narrow" one, led by a few giants.

Buyback
When a company buys its own shares back from investors, usually at a higher price. It often signals confidence.

MCX
India's main commodity exchange, where gold, silver and crude oil are traded.

WHAT THIS MEANS FOR YOU

Gold and silver had a strong week (spot gold +5.9%, silver +5.8%), but on Friday prices in India eased: MCX gold settled at ₹1,42,224 per 10 g and silver at ₹1,84,095 per kg. If you bought jewellery on Dhanteras, don't watch the daily price; it swings. If you're buying for investment, small regular amounts beat one big festive purchase.

VARSITY-STYLE EXPLAINER: WHY CAN A RALLY BE "NARROW"?

The Sensex and Nifty weigh companies by size. So if a few giants like ICICI Bank and HDFC Bank rise sharply, the index climbs even while most smaller shares fall. That's why your own small-company fund may not feel the "best week since 2021".

BUSINESS BRIEFS

RESULTS

Hindalco profit up 59%

The aluminium and copper maker reported a September-quarter profit of ₹7,533 crore, HDFC Sky reports.

RESULTS

Britannia sells more biscuits

Revenue rose 16.6% to ₹5,542 crore and profit rose 10.2%. Premier Energies' profit jumped 31% to ₹462 crore.

WATCH THURSDAY

Zee's buyback meeting

Zee Entertainment's board meets on 12 November to consider a buyback and a dividend. Its shares rose up to 11% in Sunday's Muhurat session.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Shape tomorrow's paper

Scan with your phone camera to rate today's edition and tell the editor what you want more or less of. Tomorrow's paper reads your answers before it is written.

Or tap here to open the feedback desk

Sources: HDFC Sky close report, 6 Nov (closes, sectors, breadth, FII) · HDFC Sky (GIFT Nifty, holiday) · HDFC Sky (gold, silver) · Kotak Neo closing bell (sectors, movers) · Kotak Neo (Muhurat session) · Univest (Zee) · HDFC Sky news (results). Explainers draw on Zerodha Varsity. Not investment advice.

World Money

WHERE THE WORLD'S MARKETS STAND · THE WEEK AHEAD

THE BIG STORY · WEEK AHEAD

America's inflation report arrives tomorrow, and the world's money is waiting for it

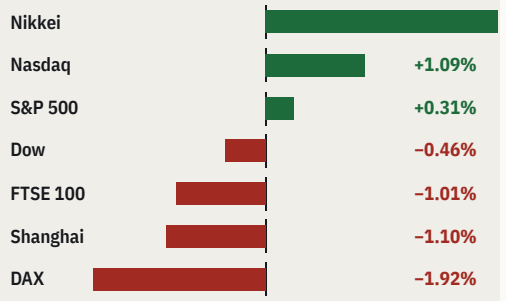

After a bruising week for US technology shares and a jobs report that was far too strong for comfort, Tuesday's price data will decide the mood.

On Friday the US economy reported 165,000 new jobs in October, against about 65,000 expected, with unemployment at 4.1%, Rio Times reports. Normally that's good news. But for investors it raised a worry: a hot economy can keep prices rising, and that may push the US central bank, the Federal Reserve, to keep interest rates high or even raise them.

So all eyes are on Tuesday 10 November (8:30 AM New York time, 7 PM in India), when America publishes its consumer price index for October. If prices rose faster than expected, borrowing costs could climb and shares could fall; if prices cooled, relief. As we explained yesterday, this report will lack a yearly comparison for overall prices because of data missing from last year's US government shutdown.

The week also brings big company results: video-game maker Take-Two (Grand Theft Auto) tonight, AI cloud firm CoreWeave on Tuesday, and network giant Cisco and chip-equipment maker Applied Materials on Thursday, StockTitan's calendar shows.

WORLD SCOREBOARD · LATEST CLOSE

Friday's closes, from Yahoo Finance and Rio Times. Sources differ slightly on Asia.

WEEK AHEAD (US TIME)

- Mon · Take-Two results
- Tue · US inflation (CPI) · CoreWeave
- Wed · Veterans Day, markets open
- Thu · Cisco, Applied Materials
- Fri · Producer prices · Japan's banks

WHY SHOULD SOMEONE IN MUMBAI CARE?

Last week foreign funds poured money into India partly because US tech shares looked shaky. If American inflation comes in hot, US interest rates may stay high, making US savings attractive again and pulling some of that money back out of India. That's why an American shopping-basket number, released at 7 PM tomorrow, can move your mutual fund on Wednesday morning.

JARGON BUSTER

Jobs report
America's monthly count of new jobs. Too weak means recession fears; too strong means inflation fears.

Bond yield
The interest a government pays to borrow. The US 10-year yield is about 4.87%: high by recent standards.

Consensus
The average forecast of analysts. Shares often move on whether results beat or miss it.

Selic
Brazil's main interest rate, held at 13.75% last week after five cuts in a row.

OIL & GOLD

Brent near $98, gold near $4,100

Brent crude ended Friday around $97–98 a barrel and US crude near $90–91. Gold was quoted between about $4,066 and $4,116 an ounce, depending on the source and contract.

JAPAN

Nikkei near 59,000

Tokyo's main index rose about 2.6% to 58,902, Yahoo Finance shows, while Hong Kong was flat and Shanghai fell 1.1%.

CRYPTO

Bitcoin just under $75,000

Bitcoin traded near $74,975, down about 0.9% on the day, according to Yahoo Finance.

Sources: StockTitan earnings and economic calendar, week of 9 Nov · Rio Times global briefing, 7 Nov (jobs, yields, Selic, closes) · Yahoo Finance markets (closes, Europe, Asia, Bitcoin) · HDFC Sky (Brent). Rio Times says it uses an automated newsroom; its figures are treated as secondary. Not investment advice.

World Affairs

WHO'S DOING WHAT, AND WHY IT MATTERS

THE BIG STORY · SAUDI ARABIA & THE GULF WAR

Missiles over Riyadh: debris damages an Aramco tower in the Saudi capital's financial district

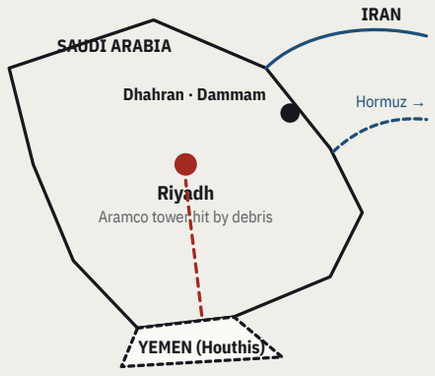

Saudi air defences shot down Houthi missiles on Sunday. No one was hurt, but the war around the Strait of Hormuz has reached the kingdom's business heart.

On Sunday, Saudi-led coalition spokesman Maj. Gen. Turki al-Maliki said air defences intercepted two Houthi ballistic missiles over Riyadh; House of Saud reports two cruise missiles were also shot down that day. An Aramco office tower in the King Abdullah Financial District was damaged. Saudi Arabia's energy ministry called it "minor damage" from falling shrapnel, with no injuries, though witnesses quoted by AFP, Reuters and CNN described windows blown out across several floors.

The Houthis, a Yemeni armed group aligned with Iran, claimed six operations including attacks on Aramco sites in Riyadh and Khurais. Those claims are unconfirmed. Separately, a missile was intercepted over Saudi Arabia's oil-rich Eastern Province, with alerts in Dhahran, Dammam and Abqaiq; no damage was reported.

At sea, the squeeze goes on. On Saturday evening a US aircraft fired on the cargo ship M/V Huda in the Gulf of Oman, the US military's Central Command said, as part of America's blockade of Iranian trade; the crew's condition was not known. Minutes later Iran's Revolutionary Guards claimed two tankers hit mines in the strait, naming no ships. Qatar's two-stage peace plan, reported here yesterday, has still not been accepted by either side.

WHERE SUNDAY'S ALERTS SOUNDED

A rough sketch, not to scale.

THE INDIA ANGLE

India took about 13% of the Gulf crude oil shipped through Hormuz in October, the shipping-data firm Kpler told Al Jazeera (China took about 42%). An Iranian official said on 3 November that India is exempt from Iran's Hormuz restrictions, but no written order has been published and India's foreign ministry hasn't commented. The human toll is also close to home: ANI reports a second Indian has died from injuries in the 10 October Houthi strike on Riyadh's King Khalid airport.

THE WAR IN THREE MOVES

US	Iran	Houthis
blockades Iran's ports and strikes ships	keeps Hormuz shut, claims mines	fire missiles at Saudi Arabia

Each side presses where it can. Oil prices sit near $98 as a result (page 2).

AROUND THE WORLD

GULF

A railway for six nations

Transport ministers of the six Gulf Cooperation Council states signed an agreement in Bahrain for a roughly 1,700 km GCC Railway, House of Saud reports.

Why it matters: building for peace while the war rages.

IRAN

A drone shot down?

Iran's Revolutionary Guards claimed they downed a US drone, but Iran's own army and the Guards named different models. America hasn't confirmed it.

Why it matters: claims in wartime need checking.

DIPLOMACY

G7 meets in Paris

Foreign ministers of the G7 rich democracies begin two days of talks in Paris today, with the Iran war high on the agenda.

Why it matters: a united line adds pressure on both sides.

Sources: House of Saud (Riyadh, Aramco tower, 8 Nov; citing AFP, Reuters, CNN) · House of Saud (Eastern Province) · House of Saud (M/V Huda, mines; citing CENTCOM) · House of Saud (Qatar plan, drone claims) · House of Saud (India exemption, Kpler, ANI) · House of Saud (GCC railway) · CBS News (G7). Much of the Gulf reporting is single-sourced; Houthi and IRGC claims are unconfirmed.

Defence

ARMY · NAVY · AIR FORCE · MADE IN INDIA

AIR FORCE THE BIG STORY

Three teams race to build India's stealth fighter: the AMCA bids go under the microscope

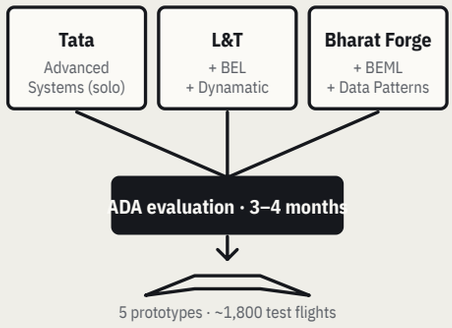

The Aeronautical Development Agency has started judging industry bids to build the first prototypes of the Advanced Medium Combat Aircraft, a ₹15,000 crore step, idrw.org reports.

India wants its own fifth-generation fighter: a jet shaped to be very hard for enemy radar to see, carrying its weapons inside its body. It's called the AMCA, and for the first time private companies, not just the state-owned HAL, are competing to build it. Bids closed on 30 October, and the Aeronautical Development Agency (ADA), which designs the jet, has begun its technical evaluation, expected to take three to four months.

Three bids are in. Tata Advanced Systems has bid alone. L&T leads a team with Bharat Electronics and Dynamatic Technologies. Bharat Forge leads a team with BEML and Data Patterns. The winner will build five flying prototypes and one airframe for ground stress tests, and the programme plans about 1,800 test flights, for a prototype phase costing around ₹15,000 crore.

Why it matters: only a handful of countries, including the US, China and Russia, fly fifth-generation fighters today. The Air Force's fleet of fighter squadrons has been shrinking as old jets retire, so a home-built stealth jet is both a matter of pride and of need. No official was quoted in the report.

THE THREE BIDDERS

INDIA'S NEW CRUISE MISSILE, IN NUMBERS

Both would use GTRE's new home-made 350 kg-thrust jet engine. *Proposed; figures from unnamed sources.

NAVY RADAR

Four radars, made at home

The Navy plans to develop four advanced radar types in India, including phased-array and "low probability of intercept" radars that are hard for enemies to detect, idrw.org reports.

AIR FORCE BAGDOGRA

"Highest readiness"

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh told troops at the Bagdogra air base, near the China frontier, to stay at the highest operational readiness, warning about drone swarms and information warfare, PTI reports.

ARMY SMALL ARMS

A Russian shotgun, made in India

Kalashnikov says it has licensed an unnamed Indian partner to make its MP-155 shotgun, which is now marketed against small drones.

DEFENCE WORDS DECODED

Fifth-generation
The newest class of fighter jets: stealthy, packed with sensors, and able to share data with other aircraft.

Stealth
Shaping and coatings that make an aircraft or missile very hard to spot on radar.

Prototype
An early working model, built to test a design before mass production.

Turbojet
A simple jet engine. Small ones power cruise missiles, which fly like tiny unmanned planes.

DRDO

A recorder for fighter radar

DRDO has put out a tender for a wide-band data recorder to test fighter AESA radars; bids are due on 24 November.

NEIGHBOURHOOD

Turkey's new pact

Turkish lawmakers approved a defence pact involving Pakistan and Saudi Arabia, AP reports, according to an idrw.org headline. India will be watching closely.

Sources: idrw.org / AFI (AMCA bids) · idrw.org (GTRE turbojet, NASM-MR) · idrw.org (Navy radars) · idrw.org / PTI (Rajnath at Bagdogra) · idrw.org / AFI (MP-155) · idrw.org (DRDO tender) · idrw.org homepage (Turkey pact headline) · SSBCrack. Several items rest on a single report.

Sports

CRICKET · FORMULA 1 · FOOTBALL

FORMULA 1 · BRAZILIAN GRAND PRIX · INTERLAGOS

Norris wins in Brazil, and Kimi Antonelli is the champion at just 20

On a day Lando Norris led from pole, the bigger story was fifth place: enough, by our count, to seal the world title for Mercedes' 20-year-old star.

McLaren's Lando Norris turned Saturday's rain-soaked pole into a commanding win, finishing the 71 laps in 1:35:23.504, a full 14.6 seconds ahead of Max Verstappen. Red Bull's Isack Hadjar was third, George Russell fourth, and championship leader Kimi Antonelli fifth despite a five-second penalty, PlanetF1 reports. Oscar Piastri, Liam Lawson and Charles Leclerc followed.

Mercedes clinched the constructors' title, and PlanetF1 reports Antonelli as world champion. The sums agree: he led by 119 points before the race; Verstappen's 18 points for second against Antonelli's 10 for fifth cut that to 111. With four races left and a maximum of 25 points each, only 100 more points are available. Antonelli, from Bologna, only made his F1 debut last year.

Cricket next: India lead New Zealand 2–0 in the five-match one-day series. The 3rd ODI is tomorrow, Tuesday 10 November at 7:30 AM IST, at Seddon Park, Hamilton, with games 4 and 5 on 13 and 15 November. A win tomorrow and India can't lose the series.

BRAZILIAN GP · PODIUM

1 Lando Norris · McLaren
2 Max Verstappen · Red Bull +14.602S
3 Isack Hadjar · Red Bull +24.485S

TITLE RACE AFTER BRAZIL (OUR COUNT)

Antonelli	390
Verstappen	279
Max left	100

Calculated from pre-race standings and race positions; official figures may differ slightly.

ODI SERIES · AFTER 2 OF 5

IND 2
NZ 0

3RD ODI: TUE 10 NOV, 7:30 AM IST, HAMILTON

PREMIER LEAGUE · WEEKEND RESULTS

Arsenal 1–0 Hull
Nottingham Forest 3–1 Manchester City
Fulham 1–1 Newcastle
Sunderland 1–0 Chelsea
Brighton 2–0 Brentford
Crystal Palace 1–3 Liverpool
Ipswich 1–2 Bournemouth
Manchester United 4–4 Aston Villa

FOOTBALL · TALKING POINT

Eight goals at Old Trafford

Manchester United and Aston Villa shared a wild 4–4 draw, while Manchester City were beaten 3–1 at Nottingham Forest and leaders Arsenal edged Hull 1–0.

CRICKET · INDIA A

Jaiswal's back-to-back tons

Yashasvi Jaiswal struck centuries in successive innings to give India A the lead over New Zealand A, SportzCraazy reports.

JUNIORS

U19 Asia Cup setback

Pakistan beat India by 3 wickets in the ACC Under-19 Asia Cup.

Sources: PlanetF1 (race result, gaps) · PlanetF1 race report (titles) · Formula1.com (pre-race standings) · SportzCraazy (3rd ODI schedule) · Outlook (series) · SportzCraazy (Premier League scores, India A, U19). Football scores come from a results aggregator; the league table was not available at press time.

The Reading Room

THREE PIECES OF GREAT WRITING, AND WHAT TO LEARN FROM THEM

A Monday menu about thinking clearly: why some people reason from scratch while others copy recipes, what makes people obsessive in a good way, and the next Varsity chapter on what a stock market actually is.

01

THINKING · BIG IDEAS | 40 MIN READ

"The Cook and the Chef: Musk's Secret Sauce" by Tim Urban, Wait But Why

In one line: most of us are "cooks" who follow other people's recipes; a few are "chefs" who work things out from the raw ingredients.

Tim Urban spent months interviewing Elon Musk and came away with one idea he thinks explains the most unusual results: reasoning from first principles. A cook copies what everyone else does because "that's how it's done". A chef asks what is actually true and builds up from there, the way SpaceX asked what a rocket's raw materials cost instead of accepting the price of buying one. You don't need to admire Musk to enjoy it: the essay is really about how all of us borrow beliefs without checking them, with Urban's trademark stick-figure drawings. It's long, so read it in two sittings.

STEAL THIS TRICK

Use a kitchen metaphor for an abstract idea. "Cook versus chef" turns a dry philosophy term into a picture anyone can hold in their head, and use on themselves.

waitbutwhy.com/2015/11/the-cook-and-the-chef-musks-secret-sauce.html

02

CURIOSITY · WORK | 12 MIN READ

"The Bus Ticket Theory of Genius" by Paul Graham

In one line: great work often comes from an obsessive interest in something that looks pointless to everyone else, like collecting old bus tickets.

Graham notices that many brilliant people share a strange trait: they get hooked on a narrow topic for its own sake, long before anyone pays them for it. Darwin with beetles, the Wright brothers with flying toys. Most such obsessions really are like collecting bus tickets and lead nowhere, he admits, but the few that matter change the world. His advice is gentle: notice what you can't stop thinking about, and give it a little room. A quick, warm read for a Monday morning.

STEAL THIS TRICK

Name your theory after something silly. A "bus ticket" is so ordinary that the title makes you curious, and the image sticks long after the argument.

paulgraham.com/genius.html

03

MONEY · INDIA | 10 MIN READ

"The Stock Markets" by Zerodha Varsity

In one line: once a company has listed through its IPO, this is where its shares change hands every day, and here is who runs the show.

After the two IPO chapters of the last two days, Varsity's next step explains the place where shares live afterwards. You'll learn the difference between the primary market (a company selling new shares for the first time) and the secondary market (ordinary people buying and selling them from each other), and what India's two big exchanges, the NSE and BSE, actually do. Read it and the Sensex numbers on page 1 will start to feel less like noise.

STEAL THIS TRICK

Build on yesterday. A series that says "last time we learned X, today Y" makes readers feel progress and keeps them coming back.

zerodha.com/varsity/chapter/the-stock-markets

Read times are rough estimates. Links go to the original publishers.

The Book Review

TODAY: PHILOSOPHY · MEMOIR

★★★★★

Genre: Philosophy / memoir
First published: 1946
Length: about 160 pages
Style: calm, plain, deeply personal
Read it: in two quiet evenings

REVIEW · MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING

A short book written after the worst place on earth, about why life is still worth living

Viktor Frankl was a young psychiatrist in Vienna when the Nazis sent him and his family to concentration camps during the Second World War. He survived several camps, including Auschwitz. His wife, his parents and his brother did not. Within about a year of his release, he wrote this book.

The first half is his account of camp life, told without self-pity. He is less interested in the cruelty than in a question that haunted him: why did some prisoners keep going while others, just as strong in body, gave up? His answer was meaning. Those who had something to live for, a person waiting for them, a book to finish, even the duty to behave with dignity, could bear almost any "how". He saw people give away their last piece of bread, proof that even there a person could choose how to act.

The second half explains the method of therapy he built from this, called logotherapy (from the Greek logos, "meaning"). It's more technical but short. Some readers find the camp sections hard going, and they should be. But the book is surprisingly hopeful, and it's one of those rare reads people say they return to in difficult years.

> "Everything can be taken from a man but one thing: the last of the human freedoms, to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances."

In plain words: you can't always control what happens to you, but you can choose how you respond.

THREE THINGS THIS BOOK TEACHES

1

Find your "why"

Frankl liked to quote Nietzsche: a person with a why to live can bear almost any how. Know what you're doing things for.

2

The gap

Between what happens and how we react, there is a small space. Pausing in that space is where our freedom lives.

3

Meaning isn't found by staring at yourself

It comes from work, from love, and from facing hard times with courage, not from chasing happiness directly.

READ IT IF YOU…

- want one short book that may change how you see bad days
- enjoyed the calm advice of Meditations (reviewed on 4 November)
- like true stories more than self-help lists

LIKED IT? READ NEXT

- The Diary of a Young Girl by Anne Frank
- When Breath Becomes Air by Paul Kalanithi
- Ikigai by Héctor García and Francesc Miralles, a lighter take on purpose

A heavy subject: the book describes the Holocaust. Quote from the widely published English translation.

Puzzles & Games

EIGHT BRAIN GAMES · EASY → HARD · ANSWERS ON PAGE 11

1 · EASY · WORDS

Spice jar mix-up

Unscramble these letters to find a spice that goes into today's chai (page 11).

M O D A M C R A

2 · EASY · NUMBERS

What comes next?

Each number has a simple link to the one before it.

3 6 12 24 48 ?

3 · MEDIUM · WORDS

From hot to tea

Change one letter at a time to turn HOT into TEA. Every step must be a real word.

HOT → ? → ? → ? → TEA

4 · MEDIUM · LOGIC

The tapri bill

At the corner tea stall, 3 cups of chai and 2 samosas cost ₹110. One cup of chai and 2 samosas cost ₹70. What does one chai cost, and one samosa?

5 · MEDIUM · GRID

Mini Sudoku

Fill in the grid so every row, column and 2×2 box has 1, 2, 3 and 4.

		3
4
			2
	1

6 · MEDIUM · TODAY'S NEWS

The Muhurat dip

Using rounded figures: the Sensex closed Friday at 81,028 and slipped 29 points in Sunday's Muhurat hour. Where did it end?

7 · HARD · NUMBERS

The leftover two

Find the smallest number above 100 that leaves a remainder of 2 when you divide it by 3, by 4 and by 5.

8 · HARD · WORDPLAY

Read the picture

What common phrase does this show?

R | E | A | D | I | N | G

Hint: it's what a careful reader of a politician's speech does.

Facts, Figures & Takes

THINGS TO SAY OVER MONDAY CHAI

111

Points between Antonelli and Verstappen after Brazil, with only 100 left to win (page 5).

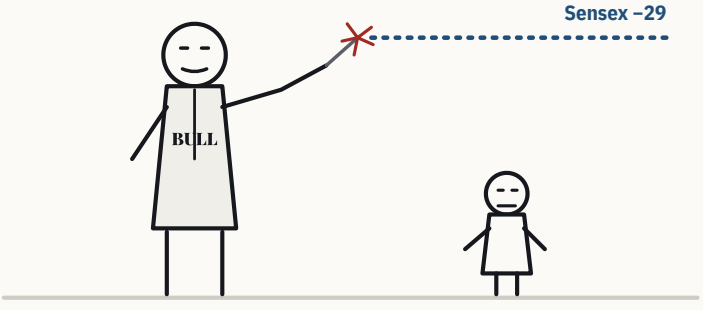

₹15,000 cr

Rough cost of building the first stealth-fighter prototypes, idrw.org reports (page 4).

13%

India's share of Gulf crude shipped through Hormuz in October, per Kpler (page 3).

POCKET CARTOON

"After an 8.8% week, the Muhurat sparkler drew the straightest line in Mumbai."

THE TAKE · OUR OPINION

A champion at 20 is a lesson about giving young people the wheel

When Mercedes picked an 18-year-old to replace Lewis Hamilton, many experts called it a gamble. Antonelli crashed, made mistakes, and was criticised loudly in his first season. Mercedes kept faith. In only his second season, he is world champion.

There's a lesson for offices, families and cricket selectors too. Talent rarely arrives finished. It needs real responsibility, a little patience with errors, and someone senior willing to say "we back you" when the headlines turn sour.

Our view: the next time a young colleague or cousin messes up early, remember that the person holding the trophy in Brazil was "the risky choice" not long ago. Give people the wheel, and a few laps to learn it.

This is the Gazette's opinion.

MONEY IDEA OF THE DAY: THE "HOLIDAY WEEK" RULE

Short weeks like this one (Tuesday off) often see thinner trading, so prices can swing more on little news. A simple rule: never make a big money decision during a holiday week just because you have free time. Write the idea down, and decide next Monday with a clear head.

DID YOU KNOW?

The wrong way round

Interlagos is one of the few F1 tracks driven anticlockwise, which puts extra strain on drivers' necks in the opposite direction from most races.

Queen of spices

Cardamom, the star of today's chai (page 11), is often called the "queen of spices"; black pepper is the "king".

Second only to water

Tea is widely described as the most consumed drink in the world after plain water.

Nine days

Viktor Frankl is said to have written the first version of Man's Search for Meaning (page 7) in just nine days.

A ground named after a PM

Seddon Park in Hamilton, where India play tomorrow, is named after Richard Seddon, New Zealand's longest-serving prime minister.

The group's real name

The Houthis (page 3) call their movement Ansar Allah, "Supporters of God"; "Houthi" comes from the family of its founder.

Figures from pages 3–5. Facts from standard reference works; Frankl's nine days is his own widely repeated account.

Ten Words for Today

LEARN THEM, THEN USE ONE BEFORE DINNER

1 Volatile adj. · VOL-uh-tile
Likely to change suddenly and unpredictably.
"Prices can be volatile in a short holiday week."

2 Audacious adj. · aw-DAY-shus
Bold and willing to take surprising risks.
"Picking an 18-year-old to replace Hamilton was audacious."

3 Ambivalent adj. · am-BIV-uh-lunt
Having mixed feelings about something.
"I'm ambivalent about buying gold at these prices."

4 Ubiquitous adj. · yoo-BIK-wih-tus
Found everywhere.
"In Mumbai, the cutting-chai stall is ubiquitous."

5 Conundrum noun · kuh-NUN-drum
A confusing and difficult problem or question.
"Ending the Hormuz blockade is a diplomatic conundrum."

6 Frugal adj. · FROO-gul
Careful with money; avoiding waste.
"A frugal post-Diwali month helps the savings recover."

7 Jubilant adj. · JOO-bih-lunt
Extremely happy, especially after a success.
"The Mercedes garage was jubilant in Brazil."

8 Eloquent adj. · EL-uh-kwunt
Speaking or writing clearly and movingly.
"Frankl's eloquent book has comforted millions."

9 Stoic adj. · STOH-ik
Bearing pain or hardship calmly, without complaining.
"He stayed stoic through the long hospital wait."

10 Resilient adj. · rih-ZIL-yunt
Able to recover quickly from difficulty.
"A resilient investor doesn't panic after one bad day."

TODAY'S CHALLENGE

Words 9 and 10 sit at the heart of today's book review. Use one of them to describe someone you admire, in a message to them today.

Skill of the Day

KITCHEN · ABOUT 10 MINUTES · DIFFICULTY: EASY

KITCHEN · AS PROMISED YESTERDAY

How to make a perfect cup of masala chai, from whole spices

Forget the tea bag. With a few spices you probably already have, you can make chai that tastes like the best tapri in town. This recipe makes two cups.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED (2 CUPS)

1 cup water + 1 cup milk	2 heaped tsp loose black tea (CTC/Assam)	3 green cardamom pods, 2 cloves, small piece of cinnamon	1 inch fresh ginger, 2–3 tsp sugar (to taste)

1 Crush the spices

Lightly crush the cardamom pods, cloves and cinnamon with a mortar and pestle, or the flat side of a steel glass. You want them cracked, not powdered, so they release flavour without making the chai gritty.

2 Grate the ginger

Grate or pound the ginger. Fresh ginger gives the warm "kick"; use less if you don't like heat.

3 Boil spices in water first

Put the water, spices and ginger in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Let it simmer for 2 minutes. Spices give up flavour better in water than in milk.

4 Add the tea

Add the tea leaves and sugar and boil for another 1–2 minutes, until the water turns a deep red-brown.

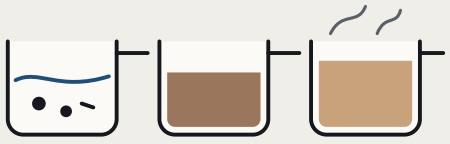

5 Add milk and "raise" it

Pour in the milk. When it rises up the pan, lower the heat; let it settle and rise again two or three times. This is the secret of a rich, creamy chai.

6 Strain and serve

Strain into cups through a fine sieve. Taste and adjust sugar. Serve hot, ideally in a small glass or kulhad.

THE ORDER MATTERS

1 · water + spices 2 min | 2 · + tea, sugar 1–2 min | 3 · + milk, rise ×3 3–4 min

Spices first, milk last

⚠ SAFETY

- Milk boils over in seconds. Never leave the pan once the milk is in, and keep the handle turned inwards, away from children.
- Use a cloth or holder: steel pan handles get very hot.
- Pour slowly through the sieve; splashes of boiling chai scald.

PRO TIP

For a winter version, add a pinch of black pepper or a few tulsi (holy basil) leaves with the spices. For "cutting chai", use less milk and boil a little longer.

Tomorrow's skill: how to get a tea or coffee stain out of a shirt.

PUZZLE ANSWERS (PAGE 8) · TURN THE PAPER UPSIDE DOWN

1. CARDAMOM · 2. 96 (each number doubles) · 3. HOT → TOT → TOE → TEE → TEA · 4. Chai ₹20, samosa ₹25 (3×20 + 2×25 = 110; 20 + 2×25 = 70) · 5. Rows: 1 2 3 4 / 4 3 2 1 / 3 4 1 2 / 2 1 4 3 · 6. 80,999 · 7. 122 (60 + 60 + 2; 60 is the smallest number divisible by 3, 4 and 5) · 8. READING BETWEEN THE LINES