VOL. I · NO. 4
MORNING EDITION

MUMBAI
EDITED FOR SHARVIN SHAH

The Jarvis Gazette

All the world, before your coffee.

SATURDAY - NOVEMBER 07, 2026 | MUMBAI, INDIA | EDITION NO. 4

₹ Indian Money

STOCK MARKET · COMPANIES · YOUR WALLET

SENSEX	NIFTY 50	GOLD · 10 GRAMS (MCX)	SILVER · 1 KG (MCX)	BRENT CRUDE · BARREL
81,028	25,030	₹1,42,379	₹1,85,177	$97.62
▲ 2.17%	▲ 2.01%	▼ 1.19%	▼ 1.05%	below $100

THE BIG STORY

A Dhanteras surprise: Sensex jumps 1,718 points while the world sulks

Wall Street had just had its worst day in 18 months. Asia was in the red. Indian shares shrugged it all off and the Nifty climbed back above 25,000.

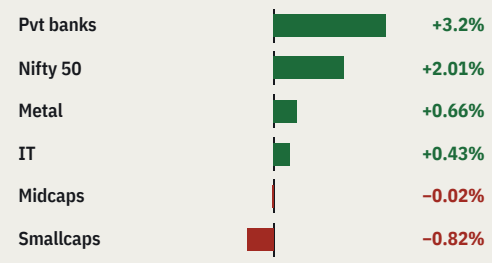

Yesterday's paper warned of a rough start. The start was rough, and then the day turned golden. The Sensex rose 1,718.01 points, or 2.17%, to close at 81,028.02. The Nifty 50 gained 493.75 points, or 2.01%, to 25,030.35, back above the 25,000 mark. HDFC Sky says both indices are up about 8.8% this week, a huge move for one week.

Why did India ignore the global gloom? The biggest reason is foreign money. On Thursday, foreign funds bought a net ₹15,000 crore of Indian shares, HDFC Sky reports, their biggest single-day purchase in nearly six years. Cheaper oil (Brent stayed under $100) also helps a country that imports most of its fuel. And it was Dhanteras, the festive start of Diwali week, when spirits are high.

Banks led the way. ICICI Bank rose about 4.3%, with HDFC Bank and Axis Bank up more than 3% each, and Mahindra & Mahindra climbed about 4.2%. Losers included Power Grid, Eicher Motors and Shriram Finance.

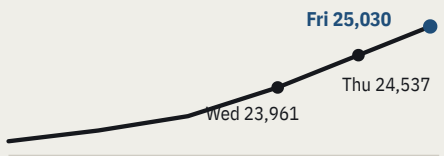

The catch: it was a rally of the giants. Smaller companies actually slipped: the Smallcap 100 fell 0.82%, and 2,400 shares fell against 1,681 that rose. One source counts this as the sixth rising day, another the seventh.

ⓘ BIG SHARES UP, SMALL SHARES DOWN

Energy, Media and Realty fell between 0.9% and 1.5%.

NIFTY'S BIG WEEK

A sketch: only the last three closes are labelled.

ⓘ NEW TO THIS? WORDS FROM TODAY'S STORY

Large-cap
A very big company, like HDFC Bank or Reliance. The Sensex and Nifty are made of these.

Smallcap
A much smaller listed company. Their shares swing more, both up and down.

Breadth
How many shares rose versus fell. Yesterday more fell than rose, even though the Sensex soared.

MCX
India's commodity exchange, where gold and silver "futures" (deals for later delivery) trade.

WHAT THIS MEANS FOR YOU

Bought gold yesterday for Dhanteras? Jewellers quoted 24-carat gold around ₹1.46 lakh per 10 grams (5paisa, All India Bullion), and prices actually dipped about 1% on the day. Tradition is a fine reason to buy a coin. As an investment, gold is best kept to a small slice of your savings, bought steadily rather than all at once.

VARSITY-STYLE EXPLAINER: WHY THE INDEX CAN RISE WHILE MOST SHARES FALL

The Nifty is not an average of all shares. It's 50 big companies, and the biggest count the most (this is called weighting). Banks make up roughly a third of it. So when HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank jump 3–4%, the whole index leaps, even if thousands of small shares slip.

COMPANY REPORT CARDS IN BRIEF

METALS
Hindalco's ₹7,533 crore

The aluminium and copper maker (owner of Novelis) reported a quarterly profit of ₹7,533 crore on revenue of ₹91,708 crore for July–September.

ENGINEERING
Siemens orders up 38%

Siemens India's revenue grew 17% to ₹5,734 crore, and new orders jumped 37.8% to ₹6,228 crore, a sign of more factory and power projects ahead.

CAR PARTS
Bosch splits its shares

Bosch announced a 1-to-5 stock split and a 3-for-1 bonus issue, with profit up 19%. The shares still slipped 3.38%.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Shape tomorrow's paper

Scan with your phone camera to rate today's edition and tell the editor what you want more or less of. Tomorrow's paper reads your answers before it is written.

Or tap here to open the feedback desk

Sources: Kotak Neo wrap, 6 Nov (closes, sectors, MCX, Brent, company news) · HDFC Sky closing report (stocks, breadth, FII) · ETV Bharat · Business Standard live · India TV · 5paisa (Dhanteras gold) · All India Bullion. Per-stock percentages differ slightly between sources; the rupee's close was not reported in our sources. Not investment advice.

World Money

WALL STREET · JOBS · CHIPS · OIL · GOLD

THE BIG STORY

America adds 165,000 jobs, nearly three times the forecast, and that's a problem

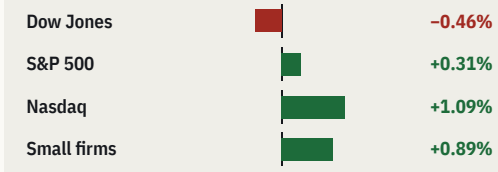

Good news for workers turned into a worry for investors: a strong economy could push the US central bank to raise interest rates in December.

US employers added 165,000 jobs in October, far above the 59,000 to 70,000 economists had expected, and unemployment dipped to 4.1%. Average pay rose 0.4% in a month. Normally that's cheered. But prices are rising too (inflation is 3.1%), and when the economy runs hot the Federal Reserve, America's central bank, tends to raise interest rates to cool it down.

Traders now see a more than 65% chance of a rate rise at the Fed's 9 December meeting, Reuters reports. The 10-year US government bond yield rose to about 4.86%. Higher rates make loans dearer and shares less attractive.

So Friday was mixed. Chip makers bounced back after Thursday's crash: AMD rose 11%, Intel 7.7%, Micron 5.1% and Nvidia 2.8%. That lifted the Nasdaq 1.09% to 24,579.42 and the S&P 500 0.31% to 7,376.86. The Dow fell 0.46% to 51,285.73. For the week, the S&P 500 lost 2.7%, its worst week since June, and the Nasdaq lost 3.4%.

US MARKETS ON FRIDAY

CHIPS: HOW MUCH CAME BACK?

Per cent, Thursday then Friday. StockTitan says chip shares won back about 36% of Thursday's losses on average.

THE FEAR GAUGE (VIX)

25.64 ▼ 9%

10 calm 20 nervous 50 panic

WHY SHOULD SOMEONE IN MUMBAI CARE?

When US interest rates go up, big global funds can earn more by keeping money in America, so some of them pull out of countries like India. That's the risk to watch: this week's record foreign buying (page 1) could reverse if the Fed turns tougher in December. A higher US rate also tends to push the dollar up and the rupee down, which makes imported things, from oil to iPhones, dearer.

JARGON BUSTER

Payrolls
The number of people on company pay lists. "Payrolls rose 165,000" means that many more jobs.

Rate hike
When a central bank raises its main interest rate, making borrowing more expensive.

Bond yield
The interest a government pays to borrow. When it rises, loans everywhere tend to get dearer.

Rebound
A rise after a sharp fall. One good day doesn't mean the trouble is over.

OIL

Brent slips under $100

Brent crude ended below $100 a barrel, and US crude was about $90. Oil is on course for a big weekly fall, though new tanker scares in the Gulf keep it jumpy (page 3).

GOLD

Gold dips 0.8%

US gold futures fell $34 to $4,079.50 an ounce. Higher interest rates make gold, which pays no interest, a little less appealing.

WINNERS & LOSERS

Airbnb up, DraftKings down

Airbnb jumped 11.7% after its results, while betting app DraftKings sank 21.3% and Atlassian 16.2%, StockTitan reports.

Sources: Yahoo Finance live (closes, jobs, VIX, gold, bond yield) · StockTitan (chip stocks, movers, CNBC, Reuters FedWatch) · Yahoo Finance / Motley Fool · Economic Times via FVBB · Grafa (oil week) · Kotak Neo (Brent). Job-forecast figures differ by poll. Not investment advice.

World Affairs

WHO'S DOING WHAT, AND WHY IT MATTERS

THE BIG STORY · UNITED STATES & IRAN

Deal or strikes? Qatar works the phones as mines and fires rattle the Gulf

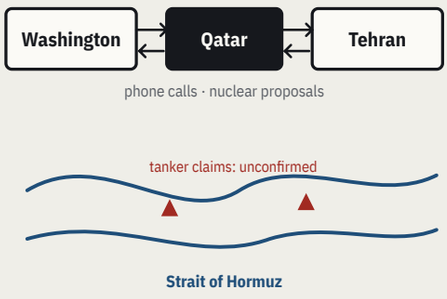

Trump says the world will know "soon". Behind the scenes, Iran is studying a nuclear offer passed on by Qatar, the go-between both sides trust.

President Trump spoke by phone with Qatar's ruler, Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, whose office said he stressed "the importance of continuing dialogue". Bloomberg reports that Iran is studying proposals on its nuclear programme presented by Qatar, which could be a big step if Tehran gives ground. Talks had stalled since a temporary peace deal agreed in June fell apart.

At the same time, Trump keeps up the pressure. He told reporters he believes it would take Iran 25 years to rebuild, and he met his security team about restarting military action. The US Treasury put new sanctions on Iranian money-exchange firms, together with Canada, and offered up to $20 million for information about Iran's nuclear work.

At sea, the picture is murky. Iran's Revolutionary Guards say two more oil tankers hit mines in or near the Strait of Hormuz, and claim five tankers and a tugboat burned on Thursday. US Central Command says no ships have hit mines, and Trump accuses Iran of making such incidents up. A British maritime agency, UKMTO, reported one tanker hit by an explosion at the waterline, still sailing under its own power. None of the mine claims has been independently confirmed.

WHO'S TALKING TO WHOM

THE INDIA ANGLE

Much of India's oil and cooking gas sails through Hormuz, so every tanker scare is felt here, in insurance costs and fuel prices. The good news this week: oil has slid back under $100, which helped the Sensex (page 1). Meanwhile India is building its own sea partnerships. INS Sahyadri has reached Japan for Exercise Malabar with the US, Japan and Australia, and the Navy hosted the Indo-Pacific Regional Dialogue in New Delhi (page 4).

WHO CLAIMS WHAT AT SEA

Iran	US	UKMTO
says 2 tankers hit mines	says no ship hit a mine	reports 1 blast, ship still moving

When sides disagree in a war, wait for independent checks.

AROUND THE WORLD

US POLITICS

Democrats: "the war must end"

After winning Congress in Tuesday's elections, Senate Democratic leader Chuck Schumer said the Iran war "must end". Defence Secretary Pete Hegseth faces an impeachment push, and Trump has backed him.

Why it matters: Congress controls the money for war.

RUSSIA & UKRAINE

Patriots for Kyiv

The US State Department has reportedly approved a possible $2.1 billion sale of Patriot air-defence missiles to Ukraine, as Russian strikes on its power grid continue into winter.

Why it matters: winter blackouts are Russia's pressure tool.

DIPLOMACY

G7 ministers meet in Paris

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio heads to a meeting of G7 foreign ministers in Paris on Monday and Tuesday, where Iran will be high on the list.

Why it matters: the rich democracies try to agree one line.

AFRICA

Mercenaries in Sudan?

A UN Security Council report alleges the UAE hired Colombian fighters for Sudan's Rapid Support Forces, Just Security reports. The claim is the report's, not proven in court.

Why it matters: Sudan's war has caused one of the world's worst hunger crises.

YOUR FUEL

US petrol to dip under $4

Fuel tracker GasBuddy expects the US average petrol price, $4.06 a gallon on Thursday, to drop below $4 next week as oil eases.

Why it matters: cheaper oil helps importers like India too.

INDIA

Lithium push

The government approved ₹2,814 crore of support to build plants that process lithium and nickel, metals used in phone and EV batteries, according to exam-prep news digests.

Why it matters: India imports almost all of these today.

Sources: CBS News live (Qatar call, Hormuz, sanctions, G7, GasBuddy) · Bloomberg (headline and summary) · Fox News live · House of Saud (CENTCOM denial) · Just Security · Inside Defense (Patriot) · The Defence Briefing (Substack) · NextIAS (lithium). Tanker claims are unconfirmed; the Patriot sale is a reported approval.

Defence

ARMY · NAVY · AIR FORCE · MADE IN INDIA

DRDO THE BIG STORY

Pralay passes its exam: India's new battlefield missile is ready to join the forces

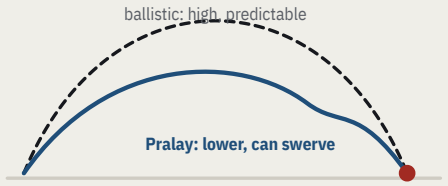

The made-in-India missile hit every target in a user trial off Odisha. The Defence Ministry says its induction is now "imminent".

At about 11:10 on Thursday morning, a Pralay missile roared off Dr APJ Abdul Kalam Island, off the Odisha coast. Tracking instruments of the Integrated Test Range at Chandipur followed it all the way, and the Defence Ministry said every objective was met. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh called it "another significant milestone".

This was a user evaluation trial, the final exam a weapon takes with the soldiers who will use it, not just the scientists who built it. "With this successful test, the induction of the system has become imminent," the ministry said. Bharat Shakti reports it clears the way for the Army and the Air Force.

Pralay (the word means "great destruction" in Sanskrit) is a quasi-ballistic missile. It can strike targets 150 to 500 km away with a warhead of 500 to 1,000 kg, The Week reports. It was designed by DRDO's Research Centre Imarat in Hyderabad and will be built by Bharat Dynamics Limited.

BALLISTIC VS QUASI-BALLISTIC

A sketch, not to scale. The swerve makes it harder to shoot down.

PRALAY AT A GLANCE

Range	≤500 km
Mumbai–Pune	≈150 km
Warhead	≤1,000 kg

Mumbai to Pune by road, for scale.

NAVY NEW SHIP

INS Amini joins

The Navy has received Amini, the fifth of eight anti-submarine shallow-water craft being built by GRSE in Kolkata. These small ships hunt submarines close to the coast.

NAVY EXERCISE

Malabar in Japan

INS Sahyadri of the Eastern Fleet reached Yokosuka, Japan, on 4 November for Malabar 2026 with the US, Japan and Australia. It has a harbour phase and a sea phase.

NAVY FRIENDS ABROAD

INS Tarkash in Mauritius

The frigate ended a visit to Port Louis on 3 November, joining the 192nd Aapravasi Diwas, sailing with the Mauritius Coast Guard and patrolling its sea zone.

DEFENCE WORDS DECODED

Quasi-ballistic
A missile that flies low and can steer mid-flight, unlike a classic ballistic missile that follows a fixed arc.

User trial
A test run by the armed forces themselves, the last step before they buy a weapon.

Induction
Formally adding a weapon or ship to the forces' fleet.

QRSAM
Quick Reaction Surface-to-Air Missile: a short-range shield that knocks down incoming jets and drones.

ARMY BIG ORDER

₹30,000 crore QRSAM deal near

BEL is close to a roughly ₹30,000 crore order for QRSAM air-defence systems, SSBCrack reports. It still needs the Cabinet Committee on Security's nod, so it is not final.

ARMY EXPORTS

4,000 Pinaka rockets

About 4,000 Pinaka rockets are in the pipeline, half for the Army and half for Armenia, with contracts possible by December, a supplier said on its earnings call.

Sources: The Week (Pralay) · Bharat Shakti (Pralay, Amini) · IBG News · SSBCrack, 6 Nov (Malabar, Tarkash, QRSAM, Pinaka) · Vajiram & Ravi (INS Amini) · NextIAS. One outlet dates the Pralay test 3 November; the 5 November date is backed by the Defence Minister's post. QRSAM and Pinaka orders are not yet final.

Sports

CRICKET · FORMULA 1 · FOOTBALL

CRICKET · INDIA IN NEW ZEALAND · 2ND ODI · LIVE THIS MORNING

Rain, wind and Wellington: India chase 2–0 under grey skies

As this paper went to press, the rain in Wellington had just stopped and the toss was expected to be a little late.

India lead the five-match series 1–0. In Auckland on Wednesday, the bowlers skittled New Zealand for 185, and Virat Kohli hit 74 off just 51 balls to win a rain-shortened chase by five wickets. Arshdeep Singh took four wickets and Anshul Kamboj was player of the match for his 2 for 22.

Today's game at the Hnry Stadium was due to start at 7:30 AM IST, but Outlook's live blog put the chance of rain at 60%, with 99% cloud cover and 17–19°C. The pitch is expected to help fast bowlers with extra bounce. Shubman Gill captains India; Mitchell Santner leads New Zealand, who have lost opener Devon Conway for the series with a concussion.

Rohit Sharma, out for a duck in Auckland, will be keen to make amends. Check the score on your phone: by the time you read this, the match may well be under way.

ODI SERIES · AFTER 1 OF 5

IND	1
NZ	0

1ST ODI: NZ 185 · IND 143/5 (DLS) · WON BY 5 WKTS

WELLINGTON WEATHER AT THE START

Rain chance	60%
Cloud	99%

MARK YOUR CALENDAR (IST)

- Tonight 11:30 PM · Brazil GP qualifying
- Sun 8 Nov 10:30 PM · Brazil GP race
- 10 Nov · 3rd ODI, Hamilton
- 19 Nov · 1st Test, Wellington

FORMULA 1 · BRAZIL

The new champion is quickest

At Interlagos, São Paulo, McLaren's Lando Norris topped the first practice, just ahead of Mercedes' Kimi Antonelli, whom The Race calls the new F1 champion. Antonelli was fastest in second practice. There is no sprint race this weekend: just practice, qualifying tonight and Sunday's grand prix.

FOOTBALL · PREMIER LEAGUE

Arsenal three points clear

Leaders Arsenal host Hull City today (8:30 PM IST), three points ahead of Manchester City, who visit Nottingham Forest (11 PM IST). Brighton are third. On Sunday, Liverpool visit Crystal Palace, who are missing suspended striker Jean-Philippe Mateta.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL, INDIAN TIME

SAT · 6:00 PM Leeds v Tottenham	SAT · 8:30 PM Arsenal v Hull City	SAT · 8:30 PM Fulham v Newcastle
SAT · 11:00 PM Nott'm Forest v Man City	SUN · 7:30 PM Crystal Palace v Liverpool	SUN · 10:00 PM Man United v Aston Villa

DID YOU KNOW?

Interlagos is one of the few F1 tracks that runs anticlockwise, which tires drivers' necks in a different direction from most races. Its name means “between lakes” in Portuguese.

Sources: Outlook live blog, 7 Nov 6:56 AM · ESPNcricinfo (1st ODI) · CricTracker preview · The Race · Athlon Sports · Dave.sport · MundoNow. Kick-off times converted from UK time and may shift. The 2nd ODI result was not known at press time.

The Reading Room

THREE PIECES OF GREAT WRITING, AND WHAT TO LEARN FROM THEM

A weekend menu: a list of life lessons you can read in ten minutes, a classic essay on finding work you love, and the next Varsity chapter, on how a company first sells its shares to the public.

01

LIFE · 10 MIN READ

"68 Bits of Unsolicited Advice" by Kevin Kelly, The Technium

In one line: a lifetime of wisdom packed into 68 short, quotable sentences.

Kevin Kelly, a founder of Wired magazine, wrote this list on his 68th birthday. Each line is one idea, on learning from people you disagree with, on saving and investing, on kindness, travel and work. Some are funny, some are practical, and a few will stay with you for years. It's the perfect Saturday-morning read, because you can stop after any line and still come away with something.

STEAL THIS TRICK

One idea per sentence. A numbered list of single-sentence lessons is easy to read, easy to share, and forces you to cut every wasted word.

kk.org/thetechnium/68-bits-of-unsolicited-advice

02

WORK & CAREER · 20 MIN READ

"How to Do What You Love" by Paul Graham

In one line: to find work you love, ignore prestige and ask whether you'd do it even if nobody were watching.

Graham, who co-founded the start-up school Y Combinator, argues that most of us pick careers to impress other people. His test is simple and a little uncomfortable: would you do this work on a free Saturday? He warns that prestige is like a magnet that bends what you think you like, and that the safest-looking path can be the riskiest for your happiness. Written in 2006, it reads as if it were written for anyone weighing a career move this year.

STEAL THIS TRICK

Give readers a test. Instead of only giving advice, hand the reader a simple question they can ask about their own life. It makes the essay personal.

paulgraham.com/love.html

03

MONEY · INDIA · 10 MIN READ

"The IPO Markets – Part 1" by Zerodha Varsity

In one line: why a company decides to sell its shares to the public, and what happens before it does.

Varsity follows one imaginary company from a small idea, through early investors and bank loans, to the day it needs much more money and "goes public" with an IPO, an Initial Public Offering. Along the way it explains words you see in the news every week: angel investors, venture capital, valuation. It's the next chapter after the regulators and intermediaries ones we picked earlier this week, and it will make the next big IPO headline much easier to follow.

STEAL THIS TRICK

Invent a character. Following one made-up business through its life makes a dry process feel like a story with a beginning, middle and end.

zerodha.com/varsity/chapter/the-ipo-markets-part-1

Read times are rough estimates. Links go to the original publishers.

The Book Review

TODAY: NON-FICTION · PSYCHOLOGY

DANIEL KAHNEMAN

Thinking, Fast and Slow

★★★★★

Genre: Non-fiction / psychology
Published: 2011
Length: about 500 pages
Style: short chapters, lots of little tests on you
Read it: slowly, a chapter a night

REVIEW · THINKING, FAST AND SLOW

Meet the two characters running your brain

Daniel Kahneman won the Nobel Prize in economics without ever taking an economics class. He was a psychologist, and his big discovery was that people are not the calm, logical calculators economists imagined. This book, written for ordinary readers, explains why.

Kahneman describes two ways of thinking. System 1 is fast and automatic: it reads a face, finishes "bread and…", and slams the brakes. System 2 is slow and effortful: it does long division and fills in tax forms. System 2 is lazy, so System 1 runs most of our lives, and it takes shortcuts that lead to predictable mistakes.

The joy of the book is that it tests you as you read, and you will fall for the tricks. You'll learn why losing ₹1,000 hurts about twice as much as winning ₹1,000 pleases, why a number you just saw changes your guess about something unrelated, and why we trust a vivid story over dull statistics. Some middle chapters are heavy going, and a few studies it cites have since been questioned. But few books will change how you see your own mind this much.

> "Nothing in life is as important as you think it is when you are thinking about it."
>
> Thinking, Fast and Slow, chapter 38 · In plain words: whatever you're focused on right now feels bigger than it really is.

THREE BIG IDEAS FROM THE BOOK

1

Losses loom larger

We feel a loss roughly twice as strongly as an equal gain. It's why investors panic-sell on a bad day like Thursday.

2

Anchoring

The first number you hear sticks. A shop shows a "₹9,999" price first so ₹4,999 feels cheap.

3

What you see is all there is

Our brain builds a confident story from whatever little information is in front of it, and forgets what's missing.

READ IT IF YOU…

- wonder why smart people make silly money choices
- enjoy books that quiz you as you go
- want to make better decisions at work

LIKED IT? READ NEXT

- Nudge by Richard Thaler and Cass Sunstein
- Predictably Irrational by Dan Ariely
- The Undoing Project by Michael Lewis, the story of Kahneman's friendship with Amos Tversky

Puzzles & Games

EIGHT BRAIN GAMES · EASY → HARD · ANSWERS ON PAGE 11

1 · EASY · WORDS

Green fingers

Rearrange these letters to make a place where plants grow. (Careful: they also spell "danger".)

R A G E D N

2 · EASY · NUMBERS

What comes next?

Each number is a fixed multiple of the one before.

3 9 27 81 ?

3 · MEDIUM · WORDS

From the cow to the cellar

Change one letter at a time to turn MILK into WINE. Every step must be a real word.

MILK → ? → ? → WINE

4 · MEDIUM · LOGIC

The Diwali laddoos

Asha, Bina and Chetan share 33 laddoos. Asha gets twice as many as Bina. Bina gets 3 more than Chetan. How many does each get?

5 · MEDIUM · GRID

Mini Sudoku

Fill in the grid so every row, column and 2×2 box has 1, 2, 3 and 4.

	3
			1
2
		4

6 · MEDIUM · TODAY'S NEWS

Sensex maths

The Sensex closed at 79,310.01 on Thursday and 81,028.02 on Friday. How many points did it gain?

7 · HARD · NUMBERS

Rows of diyas

I have some diyas. Lay them in rows of 3, 4 or 5 and there's always one left over. Lay them in rows of 7 and none are left. What's the smallest number of diyas I could have?

8 · HARD · WORDPLAY

Read the picture

What common phrase does this show?

MIND
MATTER

Hint: which word is on top?

Facts, Figures & Takes

THINGS TO SAY AT LUNCH

8.8%

How much the Sensex rose this week, HDFC Sky reports, while US shares fell.

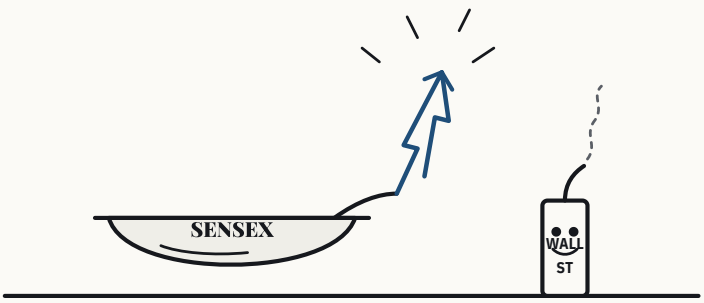

165,000

New US jobs in October, almost three times what economists expected.

500 km

The longest reach of Pralay, the missile that passed its user trial on Thursday.

POCKET CARTOON

"This Diwali, Dalal Street brought its own lamp."

THE TAKE · OUR OPINION

Good news, bad news: when a strong economy scares the market

Here's a puzzle from this week. America added far more jobs than expected, which means more people earning and spending. You'd think shares would cheer. Instead, the Dow fell. Why? Because investors weren't asking "is the economy healthy?" They were asking "will interest rates go up?"

Markets react less to news itself than to how the news differs from what was expected, and to what it might make powerful people, like central bankers, do next. That's why a "good" headline can sink shares and a "bad" one can lift them.

Our view: when a market move seems backwards, ask "what were people expecting?" The answer usually makes the puzzle disappear. And for a long-term investor, a healthy job market is still, in the end, good news.

This is the Gazette's opinion, not financial advice.

MONEY IDEA OF THE DAY: THE LOSS-AVERSION TEST

Would you accept a coin toss where heads wins you ₹1,500 and tails loses you ₹1,000? On average it pays, yet most people say no, the book on page 7 explains, because a loss feels about twice as painful as a gain.

The same instinct makes people sell shares in a panic on a bad day like Thursday, then miss the bounce on Friday. Knowing your brain does this is the first step to not letting it decide for you.

DID YOU KNOW?

Dhanteras is a date

The name joins "dhan" (wealth) and "teras" (the 13th day of the lunar fortnight), the day it falls on before Diwali.

All the world's gold, one cube

Every bit of gold ever mined, about 2 lakh tonnes, would fit in a cube roughly 22 metres on each side, says the World Gold Council.

Trading by lamplight

Indian exchanges hold a short "Muhurat trading" session on Diwali, a tradition at the BSE for decades, for an auspicious start to the new Hindu accounting year.

The windy capital

Wellington, host of today's ODI, is often called the windiest city in the world, with gusts that regularly top 100 km/h.

Koala fingerprints

Koalas have fingerprints so similar to ours that even experts struggle to tell them apart under a microscope.

A Nobel without the class

Daniel Kahneman, who won the 2002 Nobel in economics, said he had never taken an economics course. He was a psychologist.

Figures from pages 1, 2 and 4. Facts from standard reference works; gold figure from the World Gold Council's above-ground stocks estimate.

Ten Words for Today

LEARN THEM, THEN USE ONE BEFORE DINNER

1 Auspicious adj. · aw-SPISH-us
Showing signs of future success; a lucky time to begin something.
"Many families think Dhanteras is an auspicious day to buy gold."

2 Harbinger noun · HAR-bin-jer
Something that signals that another thing is coming.
"Strong job numbers may be a harbinger of higher interest rates."

3 Brinkmanship noun · BRINK-mun-ship
Pushing a dangerous situation to the very edge to force the other side to back down.
"The tanker threats are a form of brinkmanship."

4 Effulgent adj. · ih-FUL-junt
Shining brightly; radiant.
"The street was effulgent with a thousand diyas."

5 Stalwart noun · STAWL-wurt
A loyal, reliable and hard-working supporter or member.
"Kohli remains a stalwart of India's batting line-up."

6 Profligate adj. · PROF-li-gut
Spending money or resources wastefully.
"Don't be profligate with your Diwali bonus."

7 Trepidation noun · trep-ih-DAY-shun
A feeling of fear or worry about something that may happen.
"Investors waited for the jobs report with trepidation."

8 Munificent adj. · myoo-NIF-ih-sunt
Very generous, especially with gifts or money.
"Her munificent aunt sent sweets to the whole building."

9 Indefatigable adj. · in-dih-FAT-ih-guh-bul
Never seeming to get tired.
"The indefatigable scientists at DRDO tested again and again."

10 Parsimonious adj. · par-sih-MOH-nee-us
Extremely unwilling to spend money; stingy.
"He's so parsimonious he reuses gift-wrap from 2019."

TODAY'S CHALLENGE

Words 6 and 10 are near-opposites: one wastes, one hoards. Use one of them in a sentence about your own Diwali shopping today.

Skill of the Day

CLOTHES CARE · ABOUT 5 MINUTES · DIFFICULTY: EASY

CLOTHES CARE · AS PROMISED YESTERDAY

How to sew a button back on a shirt

A loose button needn't wait for the tailor. With a needle, some thread and five minutes, you can fix it yourself, just in time for Diwali outfits.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

A needle and thread in a matching colour	The button (or a spare from inside the shirt)	A toothpick or matchstick	Small scissors

1 Thread the needle

Cut about 45 cm (an arm's length) of thread. Push one end through the needle's eye, pull until both ends are equal, and tie them together in a knot. Doubled thread is twice as strong.

2 Find the spot

Look for the tiny holes or faded mark where the old button was. Push the needle up from the back of the fabric there, so the knot hides on the inside.

3 Place the button

Thread the needle up through one hole of the button and slide the button down onto the fabric.

4 Add a spacer

Lay a toothpick across the top of the button. Sewing over it leaves a little slack, so the button can pass through the buttonhole easily.

5 Sew the pattern

Go down through the hole diagonally opposite, then up through the next, making an X (or two parallel lines). Repeat 5 or 6 times through each pair of holes.

6 Make a shank

Remove the toothpick. Bring the needle up between the button and fabric, and wind the thread 3 or 4 times around the stitches under the button. This little stem is the "shank".

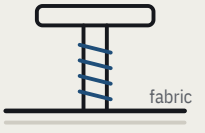

7 Finish off

Push the needle to the back, make two or three small stitches in place, pass the needle through the loop to tie a knot, and snip the extra thread.

THE X STITCH AND THE SHANK

1 · X stitch over a toothpick

2 · Side view: the shank

Blue lines show the thread. The shank lifts the button so it buttons easily.

⚠ SAFETY FIRST

- Needles are sharp: push away from your body and fingers, and use a thimble if you have one.
- Keep needles, pins and loose buttons away from small children and pets; they can be swallowed.
- Store the needle in a pincushion or stuck into a scrap of cloth, never loose on a bed or sofa.

PRO TIP

Run the thread over a bar of soap or candle wax before you start. It stops tangles and knots, and makes the stitches last longer.

Tomorrow's skill: how to fold a shirt neatly so it comes out of a suitcase without creases.

PUZZLE ANSWERS (PAGE 8) · TURN THE PAPER UPSIDE DOWN

1. GARDEN · 2. 243 (each number × 3) · 3. MILK → MILE → MINE → WINE · 4. Asha 18, Bina 9, Chetan 6 (18 + 9 + 6 = 33) · 5. Rows: 1 3 2 4 / 4 2 3 1 / 2 4 1 3 / 3 1 4 2 · 6. 1,718.01 points · 7. 301 (300 is divisible by 3, 4 and 5, and 301 = 7 × 43) · 8. MIND OVER MATTER